Need a Serious Intervention

Even after the Diwali celebration when school resumed, none of the classes had perfect Attendance. Children continued their celebration, and parents allowed them to be at home after reopening. I am really disappointed with some of the parents' attitude towards their children's education and learning habits.

This is a serious Concern .....!!!
Some parents take their child out of the school hours for visiting relatives, family functions, going on pilgrimage, doctor's appointments etc... etc....etc. . Where have you heard that we deprive students from their quality time in schooling, learning and doing other activities? What learning ethics we teach them?

Learning ethics include –

- Discipline in all aspects of students' life
- Turning home / class assignments on time
- Punctual to school
- Regular attendance in school
- Developing and applying standards of right and wrong ( good and bad )
- Being respectful to everyone
- Being responsible to one's own action
- Good behaviour
- Not taking time out of school on working days

I, as principal of the school strictly urge you to adhere to school rules and policies and teach our students ethics, good behaviour and other values. Therefore, I don't allow students to be out of school unless there is a grave reason. This is a warning to all the students and their parents that students will not be allowed to leave the school anytime during school hours unless on an emergency.

Recently, I sent a note to the parents regarding sweaters /cardigans matching their uniform, I kindly request you not to send the students with other warm clothes. Kindly, contact the school office and purchase it.
